Poem about New City by Fatema and Zainab

In assembly on Friday Fatema and Zainab (5R) shared a poem with the all the school

Roses are red

Violets are blue

Our school is amazing

The teachers are too

The students are the best

They never make a mess

Everyone is perfect

They always love and care

Big Hair Day

Wednesday 15th September was World Afro Day. This day was started 5 years ago in the UK and is now celebrated worldwide every year. This year, New City took part by putting on an assembly sharing our thoughts and ideals about respecting and celebrating our individualities. Paige, Sophie, Keeyana and Patrick from year 4 shared poems about individuality. Here is one of the poems that we shared:

You don't have to look, very far to see,
someone who's different, from you or me.
Maybe they come, from a land far away,
or maybe they're people you see every day.
With different hair, different clothes,
different eyes or a different nose.
A different idea, that you haven't yet heard.
A different language or a different word.
So if you want to learn, about something new,
be a friend to someone, who's different to you.

Roald Dahl Poster Competition

On Monday 13th September, New City celebrated Roald Dahl day. Every year, on what would be Roald Dahl's birthday, people from around the world come together to remember Roald Dahl and the incredible stories he wrote. To celebrate, New City held a poster competition and the children were challenged to create a poster about Roald Dahl or one of his many incredible books. Congratulations to Jasim in 4T and Ula in 1T, whose posters won the competition and a prize of some of Roald Dahl's most popular books was presented to them.

Mr Freeland's Book Review

My Monster and Me

Everybody gets anxious sometimes - but if the anxiety grows so big that it impacts on a child's ability to play or go out with friends, it needs addressing. In this delightful picture book, a boy introduces both himself and his monster, who has been with him for as long as he can remember. It is big and bossy and has a tendency to get in the way and stop him doing what he wants to do. It also hides itself from his parents. And now it is enormous. This is such an effective book for reminding us all that though anxiety issues (or anger issues or indeed other mental health challenges) may be a part of life, they do not define us, and with the right strategies they can be managed.

Times tables Rock Stars

The importance of learning your times tables is spoken about all the time as they help us to solve multiplication and division calculations. We would like all children to know their times tables up to 12. TT Rock Stars is an amazing platform for children to practice and learn them, please encourage your child to go onto here everyday for 5-10 minutes. Bronze, Silver and Gold awards will start to be handed out in class and Platinum for those who know it already.
