Black History Month

Last month we all enjoyed celebrating Black History Month. The children entered lots and lots of amazing posters to illustrate their learning. It was a tough decision but the winners were announced at the end of half term and they were: Maryam 1P, Dahlia 6JAE
Runners up: Zakaria 3G, Ehaan 4P, Nana 5R and Aimee 6W

Y5/6 Brass Day

On Wednesday, year 5 and 6 took part in workshops led by a visitor from Brass Bands England. Each group learnt 3 new songs in just an hour, resulting in a mini concert for the year 4 children. The favourites were 'I Feel Good' by James Brown and 'We Will Rock You' by Queen. The children worked exceptionally hard and showed New City at its best! Year 4 are now very excited to take on learning a brass instrument next year!

Mr Freeland's Book Review Our Tower

Three children who live in a very high, grey tower hear the song of a tree calling them. They creep out of the tower, past the cars and lamp-posts, to the woods that border the estate. There, inside the tree, they meet a tree-grown man who gives them a magic stone. Through the hole in the stone they see their Tower re-imagined. Instead of windows, it has eyes of love. It has an elevator mouth. It has balcony brows. Adults have forgotten the wonder in the everyday, but these children see that there is power in the smiles of their neighbours and magic in the kindness of others. There is a beauty to the community of their Tower. Written in a lyrical, rhyming lilt, this is a celebration of all who live in towers, on estates. Imagination, nature and adventure are as much theirs as anyone's. Richard Johnson's stunning illustrations perfectly reflect the dream-like quality of the story, his use of glowing lights in particular making each spread a visual treat. Based on Joseph Coelho's experience of searching for adventure while growing up in a tower block, this beautiful book will linger long in the imagination.

Ten Pin Panathlon at the O2 Arena

On 12th October, six New City children participated in the 'Newham SEND Ten Pin Panathlon' competition. All children were very well behaved on our bus and then tube journey to reach the O2. They really enjoyed the chance to go bowling and were excellent teammates who cheered each other along. Each child received a certificate and a medal at the end of the competition. Well done to Zaynab, Adam, Ayaan, Yasin and Areeba for their amazing efforts!
