This week, New City took part in exciting PE workshops. With it being Science Week, pupils across the school learnt all about the muscular, skeletal and cardiovascular systems, the different food groups and body parts, and what it means to be fit and leading a healthy lifestyle. All staff and pupils thoroughly enjoyed the workshops and had lots of fun!

Science Week

Last week New City celebrated the annual Science Week. We had a visit from the incredible Dr Ken who modelled the fantastic forces involved in circus skills, some children even got to have a go. During Science lessons children had the opportunity to explore the world around them further by taking part fun experiments in the classroom; including exploding yeast and fascinating finger prints. We also held a poster competition where children sent in posters celebrating their favourite scientists, the work produced was incredible.. Eco Warriors

Mrs Jukes and Mr Taylor met with the eco-warriors this week. Earlier in the school year, as part of the eco-school's audit, the eco-warriors had identified that New City needed to encourage more wildlife. In an effort to increase New City's biodiversity, the eco-warriors this week made seed balls. This involved lots of messy fun mixing pulped scrap paper and wildflower seeds. The seed balls will be planted in the school's roof garden. The chosen seeds produce a range of wildflowers that are particularly attractive to pollinators such as bees. We also discussed the Great British Spring Clean which runs from Friday 17th March to April 2nd.

Mr Freeland's Book Review

Mummy Time

This warm and joyful picture book charts a day in the life of a stay-at-home mother and her two energetic children. When morning time arrives, a day of marvellous mummy time begins for the youngest boy sibling (and a lot of busyness for mummy). Written through the eyes of the little boy, it captures both the precious and - at times chaotic - moments of the everyday routine. From morning wake-up call and getting ready, dropping big sister off at school, stops at the library, supermarket and more, mummy time is the best of times for the little boy. The rhythmic and pacy text is great for reading aloud and gives a real sense of both the happy haze of the children's world, as well as the tiring but loving work involved in busy motherhood. to identify with.
