Year 4 IntoUniversity

On Tuesday 18th June, Year 4 spent an enjoyable and highly informative day when IntoUniversity came to New City for a skills workshop. The children were introduced to the different skills needed in a career and understood a skill to be 'something you are good at doing, it is something you learn and get better at. We all have skills and can improve on them all the time.' They participated in three career based activities; Palaeontology, Civil Engineer and Product Design, which demonstrated how different careers require different skills. The children were engaged and well behaved during the activities. At the end of the workshop, each child discussed the skills they used whilst exploring each career, including inference, decision making, problem solving, and leadership.
